Newsletter

Chief's Message

Kwe' everyone,

I hope you are all doing well. This has been a busy month, and I want to share a few updates with you. We started the month by coming together as a community for Remembrance Day, and I want to speak about that first.

Thank you to everyone who came out to honour our veterans. It meant a lot to see our community stand together. We remembered all those who served and those who continue to serve today. Your support showed great respect, and I was proud to be there with you.

In November, I also spoke at the Marine Renewables Canada Conference and Exhibition (MRC) about the energy work happening in the Bay of Fundy. I shared how we are working with the Fundy Ocean Research Centre for Energy (FORCE), which studies and tests tidal energy in the Bay. These partnerships help protect our waters and support clean energy opportunities for the future.

I was also in Vancouver for the National Indigenous Coalition on Housing. One highlight was taking part in the capacity development session. Housing teams from across the country attended. We learned from each other, shared ideas and looked for ways to bring more housing options and better supports back home to Glooscap.

As we move into the holidays, I want to wish everyone a safe and happy Christmas and New Year. I hope you can spend time with your family and friends. We have community holiday events coming up, and if you're able, I encourage you to volunteer or lend a hand. Our events are always better when we work together.

Wela'lin,

Chief Sidney Peters

Council Update

Amanda Francis
Councillor

Gail Tupper
Councillor

Charlotte Warrington
Councillor

Kwe' everyone,

As this year comes to a close, we want to share a few words with you. Many good things are happening across Glooscap First Nation. Our health and wellness programs continue to grow, our cultural and language activities are bringing people together, and important work in housing, safety and community facilities is moving ahead. These steps help keep our community strong, safe and connected.

This fall, we also took part in education and governance discussions to make sure Glooscap's voice is heard in decisions that affect our future. We met with schools to strengthen partnerships for our students and joined neighbouring First Nations to talk about community development and shared goals. Our emergency planning work also moved forward, including the completion of the All-Hazards Plan, which will guide how we prepare for and respond to emergencies in the years ahead.

Your involvement continues to shape this work. When you come to events, share your ideas or take part in community sessions, it strengthens the path we walk together.

As we celebrate the holidays, we encourage everyone to join the gatherings, lend a hand when you can and check in on friends and neighbours. Helping one another is what keeps our community strong. We look to the new year with hope, ready to keep building a bright and healthy future for all our members.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

Final Strategic Plan Update

Message from the Chief Administrative Officer

Kwe’ everyone,

As you will see from the progress report on the next page, we are on track across all seven areas of our five-year Strategic Plan. Some goals are already finished, and the rest are moving ahead.

You can see this progress around Glooscap. Families have more support. Children and youth have safer places to learn and play. Elders have stronger services. Housing, programs, culture and education are all improving step by step.

The work happening today is building a stronger and more connected community. It is helping us grow in a steady and responsible way, with clear goals and better services for everyone.

As we move forward, we will keep focusing on what matters most: healthy families, safe homes, strong culture and good opportunities for all ages.

Wela’lioq to our Elders, youth, families, staff and volunteers for everything you do for the community.

Wela’lioq,

Michael Polak
Chief Administrative Officer

On November 11, our community gathered at the Glooscap Veterans Memorial to honour the courage, service, and sacrifice of all who have served in the Canadian Armed Forces. Remembrance Day is an important time for us to reflect on the freedoms we have today and the generations of veterans who stood in defence of their families, their communities, and this country.

This year's ceremony was led by GFN Veteran and Capital Manager Jason MacLeod, together with Chief Peters, who offered words of respect and remembrance on behalf of the Nation. We are grateful to everyone who attended, supported, and participated in the gathering.
